— AMARO —

Vecchio Amaro del Capo // 35.0% // Italy £3.5

A 'light' Amaro made at the Caffo distillery in Italy to an old family recipe. Richly aromatic but approachable, featuring 29 different herbs and roots including bitter orange, sweet orange, liquorice, mandarin, camomile and juniper.

Nardini Rabarbaro // 19.0% // Italy £3.5

A traditional 'rabarbaro' style Amaro, with its key additional ingredient of Chinese rhubarb. Intense vegetal aromas, warmed fruits and a bitter finish.

Averna Amaro // 29.0% // Italy £3.5

An orangey tonic liqueur invented over 180 years ago in Italy and still made to the same recipe today containing 33 herbs

Amarot Amaro // 28.0% // Italy £4.0

A classic Italian amaro from Torino. Made with herbs and bitter oranges, this is a great digestif. With notes of fruits, bright herbs and cardamom.

Amaro Montenegro // 23.0% // Italy £4.0

A 'light' Amaro made at the Caffo distillery in Italy to an old family recipe. Richly aromatic but approachable, featuring 29 different herbs and roots including bitter orange, sweet orange, liquorice, mandarin, camomile and juniper.

Stellacello Amaro // 23.0% // England £4.0

Stellacello is made in East London under a secret recipe of locally sourced herbs, fruits and spices. The citrus is more prominent in this amaro with sweet orange zest aromas. After the fruit follows more characteristic spice and bitterness, but with a fresh finish.

Tosolini Amaro // 30.0% // Italy £4.5

A traditional herb-based Italian digestif from one of the country's best distillers, Tosolini. It has been created by a maceration of 15 varieties of Alpine herbs in the company's excellent spirit, before dilution with pure Alpine water.

Clementi China Antico Elixir // 33.0% // Italy . . . £4.5

A 'light' Amaro made at the Caffo distillery in Italy to an old family recipe. Richly aromatic but approachable, featuring 29 different herbs and roots including bitter orange, sweet orange, liquorice, mandarin, camomile and juniper.

— FERNET —

Fernet Branca // 39.0% // Italy £4.0

Created in 1845 by Bernardino Branca. It is still made to the original secret recipe that has been passed down from generation to generation. So secret that even those who produce it are not allowed to know the exact quantities of herbs used. It includes over 40 different herbs, including aloes, rhubarb, and cinchona bark.

Fernet Branca Menta // 28.0% // Italy £4.0

Created in 1960, after recognizing the popularity of Fernet Branca mixed with mint syrup. It uses the same recipe as Fernet Branca, but with the addition of more sugar and peppermint oil, and is bottled at a lower abv. The effect is an inviting aroma, and gentle balance of flavours in the taste. A great refreshment over ice.

Tuvé // 39% // Italy £4.0

From Piedmont, North West Italy. A traditional Italian Fernet, a bitter digestif. Can be enjoyed on it's own or as an adjunct to cola.

Quaglia Liquore Fernet // 40% // Italy £4.0

A nice herbaceous Fernet-style liqueur from Antica Distilleria Quaglia in Italy. With note of peppermint, citrus peels, Alpine herbs and a touch of forest floor. Enjoy well chilled as a digestif.

Fernet 1882 // 45% // Argentina £4.5

A classic Fernet but made in Argentina rather than the traditional home of Italy. To enjoy with two ice cubes.

Francisco Manzanilla // 40% // USA £4.8

Francisco Ruibarbo // 40% // USA £4.8
The first of its kind to be locally crafted in the Bay Area, this fernet is made with 12 botanicals, such as rhubarb, chamomile, orange peel, bay leaves and mint. They are vapour infused in a core distillate before being blended with select herbal infusions using local grape-based brandy.

Fernet Leopold Highland Amaro // 40.0% // USA £5.5

A gold medal winner at the San Francisco World Spirits Competition, from Leopold Bros of Colorado. A balance of herbal notes traditional to fernet, with a more unique mint quality. Ingredients include rose petals, elderflower, chamomile and honeysuckle. They then age the spirit in Chardonnay barrel before bottling.

Letherbee Fernet // 35.0% // USA £5.5

Created by Letherbee Distillers in Chicago. Traditional fernet flavours like saffron, are balanced with the addition of rhubarb root and myrrh which stop the bitter notes from overpowering the drink. The use of spearmint and eucalyptus give a pleasant mentholated finish.

Fernet del Frate Angelico // 44.0% // Switzerland £7.5

Fernet del Frate Angelico is truly a step back in time, after the discovery of an hand written recipe from the monk Frate Angelico Fernet. Produced in small batches in Switzerland to the original recipe, this is often cited as the ultimate 'luxury' Fernet.

— VINTAGE BOTTLES —

Zucca Rabarbaro 1950's // 16.0% // Italy £7.0

A 1950's vintage bottling of Zucca's rhubarb amaro. They combine the rhubarb with zest, cardamom seeds and other curative herbs. Beautifully delicate and bittersweet.

Bordiga Bitter 1950's // 21.0% // Italy £8.0

This bottle dates back to the 1950's from the now closed Bordiga. Advertised as both an aperitif and a digestif, it offers an insight to the past.

Pages Amaro Quinquina 1970's // 15.0% // France .£9.0

A 1970s bottle of Quinquina from Distillerie Pages Le Puy en Velay in France. Quinquina is an aperitif wine which traditionally contains cinchona bark, a natural source of quinine.

— BITTERS / DIGESTIVES —

Gammel Dansk // 38.0% // Denmark £3.5

A relatively modern liqueur bitters, having been invented in Denmark in 1964, Gammel Dansk contains 29 natural ingredients and is the second best-selling spirit in its native country.

Picon Amer // 18.0% // France £3.5

An Amer from French producers Picon. Amer is French aperitif flavoured with Bitter Orange and Gentian Root.

Underberg // 44.0% // Germany £4.0

Iconic German bitters, Underberg are made by macerating herbs & roots in alcohol before oak-ageing. Packaged in miniature bottles - the recommended dose after a meal as a digestif.

Torani Amer // 39.0% // USA £4.0

A fantastic bitter orange and gentian aperitif, made in the USA as an alternative to Picon Amer.

All served in 35ml measures
